

What the exact conditional null can and cannot detect

Full power is reached at a planted rms of 0.048 — far below the 0.099–0.294 observed on real data.

The flat line is not a weak result: that alternative is the null, so the test has no power against it by construction.